KNOX MAKES COMPLAINT.

Bill in the Merger Case Completed.

Fine Points Regarding Anti-Trust Law.

Strike on Rio Grande Systems Probably Averted—Eureka and Eastern.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
WASHINGTON, March 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Atty. Gen. Knox completed the bill in the legislation which he will present this week in behalf of the United States against J. Pierpont Morgan and James J. Hill and others for the purpose of preventing the merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway companies into one Northern Securities Company. It is proposed to attach to the bill that the bill will be presented to the court of the Eighth Judicial District, sitting at St. Paul. The lawyers of the government say the case seems to be well understood, and do not think it will be necessary to demand such additional testimony after the answer of the defendants has been received by the court.

Atty. Gen. Knox and his assistants completed the bill after an exhaustive investigation of matters pertaining to the merger, the action involved according to an expert's definition, the combination of two stock corporations by the holding corporation, and which, under constitutional law, is held to be illegal.

In addition to this complaint, one of the chief points to be brought out in the suit is the legal difference between an industrial monopoly, or combinations controlling production and monopoly with respect to commerce among States and transportation. In other words, it is asserted, operate legally by force of the decision rendered in 1892 by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the United States against Knight.

In this decision, it was held out, the court held that control of production was not a national issue. Legal officers of the administration, who are sanguine as to the outcome of the government's contentions, point out that it is specifically provided in the Constitution that the national government shall have jurisdiction over interstate commerce.

From the Circuit Court, the case will be carried before the Court of Appeals and finally to the Supreme Court. When the answer of the defendants is read, the defense intention is revealed therein, there will be no necessity for taking testimony, and each side of the case will be argued at once. Otherwise, both J. Pierpont Morgan and J. J. Hill will have to be summoned to give testimony before the court. Arguments for the government will be made by the Attorney-General and Solicitor-General Richards, the latter having assisted Atty. Gen. Griggs in the similar test case. It is learned on good authority that John G. Johnson of Philadelphia, one of the best-known corporation lawyers in the country, and Guthrie of New York, have been retained by the defense.

DISMAY AMONG EXECUTIVES.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—MARCH 4.—The President has given the railroad management a chance to make up their minds to understand that the Interstate Commerce and the Sherman laws will be enforced to the letter, says the Record-Herald.

The information has been conveyed through the medium of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and it is understood that the administration will not for any amendment to the law until the two laws have been enforced and the results noted.

The Record-Herald asserts that the new order of things has caused consternation among the executive officials of roads centering in Chicago, and all are engaged in the work of "cleaning house."

While consultations have resulted in the decision that all associations and organizations which are in violation of the laws involved must be dissolved, it is not known whether the commission will insist upon it, nothing will be done with the Western Trunk Line Committee at present, nor with the various passenger associations which are in violation of the Sherman law.

Similar action will be taken by the three east of Chicago, and the bureaus in the charge of Chairman Tucker will probably be abolished. Railroad officials are not a unit regarding the matter, and it is not known whether a large number of them believe that all organizations should be done away with. Attention is to be given to the fact that, if anything is to be done, early in the year, schedules there will be little use for associations or "statistical bureaus" as some of them are called.

CALL FOR THE CASH.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—MARCH 4.—The PRICO TROLLEY LINE DEAD.
NEW YORK, March 4.—Brown Bros. & Co., head of the underwriting syndicate which has undertaken to reorganize the leading street railway lines of San Francisco, have sent out allotment letters calling for a payment of 20 cents of the whole, or about $9,000,000, on March 6.

EUREKA AND EASTERN.
CONTRACT TO BUILD LET.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—MARCH 4.—Lord Thurloe of London and Gen. Proctor of New York arrived in Redding to-day from Chicago. They are the promoters of the Eureka and Eastern, and if they confirm the correctness of the story sent out from Chicago concerning that proposed road.

The contract for building the Eureka and Eastern has been left at the Hotel Stretton of New York, the finance supplied, and we will soon begin actual construction, said Proctor. "The proposed road is to be 100 miles in length, connecting Humboldt county at tidewater with Weiser, Idaho, to which point the Great Northern will be extended to meet it. The road will cross the Southern Pacific at Redding. The road will open up a very country, and will be of great value. A line of steamers will be put on from Eureka to San Francisco."

WILL ENTER OAKLAND.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—MARCH 4.—The San Fe Railroad will have a terminus in Oakland, says the Evening Post. This much has been decided upon, and the first move has been made. This afternoon the Oakland and East Side Railway Company filed articles of incorporation with a capital stock of $1,000,000, the incorporators being men as incorporators. M. J. Kestler, F. C. Havens and George E. Pratt of Oakland, A. E. Bolton of Berkeley and Morris L. Johnson of San Francisco. The new company is backed by the Santa Fe, and a large sum has been deposited with the Donohue-Kelly Banking Company. The company will purchase and construct a broad-gauge steam railroad. It is the intention of the company to purchase the property of the Eureka and Eastern Railroad, which is now in the hands of a receiver, and will be sold under a decree of foreclosure by the United States Circuit Court. There are about 150 miles of road, running from near Emeryville to Bryant, with an extension to Walnut Creek. Another extension will be built, connecting with the Santa Fe Railroad near San Pablo. The Oakland and East Side Railway Company will begin operations within a few weeks, and will ask for franchises in Oakland and Contra Costa counties.

that the President has made no selection yet. It has been reported in Washington, during the last few days that Curtis Guild of Boston will be offered the place, but the report has not been verified.

Massachusetts men and Republicans say that Guild might not care to accept the place, as he is being quite prominently mentioned as "the Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor."

It is thought that Secretary Long will review about the 1st of May. BOOK BY THE PRESIDENT.

BESTS OF AMERICAN DEER.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The President has not allowed his official diary to entirely stop the diary of his life, now completing the manuscript of a new book, which will be sent to the publishers this week. It will be called "The Deer of North America," and will be an exhaustive study of the habits of the deer.

The President is an enthusiastic naturalist, and has written a monograph on the elk of North America, beside several papers on the same subject. The book is to be illustrated. It will be mainly scientific, although some of President's personal observations will be included, probably in anecdotal form. His work this week will be the revision and correction of certain parts of the manuscript. The book will be published.

NOT SO INSURMOUNTABLE.

SUB-COMMITTEE AND CANAL.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Yesterday's action of the Senate sub-committee on Inter-oceanic Canals in voting that the legal completion of the Nicaragua route for the fifth and property of the Panama Canal Company to the United States are insurmountable will, it is said, have no practical effect upon the canal question in the Senate.

It was learned today that the report was accepted by the sub-committee in a most perfunctory way and without investigation into the merits of the case. The sub-committee is composed of Senators Foster of Louisiana and Turner of Washington. Democrats and Fritchard of North Carolina, Morgan of Oregon and Kittredge of South Dakota. Republicans, the chairman ex officio being Senator Morgan, chairman of the full committee, who, as is well known, is an uncompromising advocate of the Nicaragua route, and members of the sub-committee except Senator Kittredge are also pronounced in their advocacy of that route, and he voted against the action of the sub-committee. Fritchard was absent, but he, too, is known to favor the Nicaragua route.

The several questions involved were not examined, and Senator Morgan is writing the report of the sub-committee, as well as the report of the full committee in favor of the Nicaragua route.

Senator Morgan is still actively supporting the Nicaragua route and will fight it in committee, although he can accomplish nothing except to file a minority report, which will probably be signed also by Senator Kittredge and perhaps one or two other members of the committee, and then leave the whole question before the Senate, to be fought out on its merits.

REGULAR SESSION.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.J.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—SENATE.—When the Senate convened today, the credentials of Messrs. Allison and Dallin, both of Iowa, were presented to the Senate. The latter credentials were for a term of six years beginning March 4, 1893. In response to an inquiry, the President pro tem., Mr. Frye, announced that it would be necessary for Dallin again to take the oath of office.

Mr. Allison's present term will not expire until March 4, 1903. He entered the Senate March 4, 1895, and has been a member of the committee of the body since that date. The new term for which he has been elected will extend for six years from March 4, 1903.

Representative Patterson of Tennessee was asked as to the number of slaves Gov. Taft replied that he had no record of his own, but that he was told by the slaves turning their guns against us. The influence of the United States was, however, growing stronger and stronger.

The civil authorities had never recognized slavery in any way, he said, and the military had never interfered with the slaves. But the slaves did not understand the art of liberty, and Gov. Taft said that if we attempted to end slavery by force, we would be compelled to the expense of the country.

BUSINESS.

Clearances sent by the Los Angeles banks yesterday amounted to $34,659.59. For the corresponding day a year ago the amount was $65,066.65. Large as the amount was for yesterday—and it was so to 15 per cent, above the average—there were no unusual transactions involved in the figure.

A selling movement in stocks at New York carried prices downward to an active and weak closing. Traders in wheat at Chicago are fearful to sell short during the present uncertain state of the winter crop. Corn was strong yesterday.

ORANGE-FED PORK.

While some people are going around, complaining that "Southern California is overdone in every line of business, and that there is no chance for a man of moderate means to make a living here, others who possess more enterprise or more originality, have gone to work and, starting on a small scale, have built up industries that now insure them a good and permanent income. If this semi-tropical section there are scores of openings for small industries of this kind, which in the aggregate go far toward establishing the prosperity of any section. As the Times has previously observed, it is far better for a community to have a thousand small manufacturing establishments, each employing an average of half a dozen men, than to have six establishments, each employing a thousand people, as the shutting down of one of these would be attended with much serious loss to the community.

Among other openings for small capital in Southern California is the utilization of products which now go to waste, for the manufacture of by-products, in connection with some of our leading horticultural industries. Strangers are often surprised to note the great piles of call oranges which are to be seen outside many of our packing-houses, where they are left to rot. In some cases these calls have been used to fertilize the orchards, and around Riverside they are sometimes dried and used for fuel. A Santa Ana man last year hit on a better expedient than these. He purchased a number of hogs, and securing large quantities of call oranges, for little or nothing, fed them to the hogs, who devoured the fruit greedily. The pork which resulted is said to have been of exceptionally fine flavor, as might indeed be expected.

There is a good chance to build up another Southern California industry. "Southern California orange-fed pork" should be a catching sign in eastern grocery stores which cater to wealthy clients, especially if a contrast should be drawn between such meat and that of animals which have been fed on the refuse from slaughter-houses. A pig raised from the time of weaning on saltines, and then topped off with corn and oranges—with a few orange blossoms to finish up—and the hams boiled in California sherry, should furnish a dast fit for a king—or even a President.

This is only one suggestion. Any intelligent and observant man who has made a tour of investigation through Southern California could easily name many other promising openings for the investment of small capital. There are plenty of ways to make money in Southern California outside of oil and real estate.

Councilman Bowen is to be commended for having taken energetic action, in the interest of the street-matay companies to repair the pavement between their tracks at the intersection of Spring and Third streets and at the intersection of Broadway and Third street. Those crossings have for a long time been in a disreputable condition of neglect, and it is time something was done to remedy the the Isthmus of Panama, and northward to the Klondike.

In opening a campaign of this kind, it is always important to start off right. Such grossly misleading information about the climate of the coast region of Southern California will not harm this section, because the truth about our climate is too well known to hundreds of thousands of people to be jeopardized at this late day, but such palpably misleading misrepresentations of fact are sure to react injuriously upon a movement with which The Times has expressed and again expresses full sympathy.

THE NATION IS PROSPEROUS.

The pessimists, for many months past, have persisted in assuring us that the tremendous activities in nearly all lines of business throughout the United States could not long continue. They have characterized these activities as feverish, unnatural, spasmodic, and necessarily short-lived. But in spite of those gloomy forebodings, the United States has gone on prospering beyond all precedent, and beyond the hopes of the most optimistic. While other nations have been confronted by trade depression, more or less serious, our domestic trade has steadily expanded, and our foreign trade has kept well up toward high-water mark, except as it has been unfavorably influenced, in some degree, by industrial and commercial depression abroad, reducing the purchasing capacity of our foreign customers.

One of the unfailing indications of our national prosperity is found in the condition of the iron trade—which is a sort of industrial barometer by which general business conditions may be measured with a considerable degree of accuracy. The iron trade is today largely oversold. Every manufacturer is behind his orders, although the productive capacity of every plant in the country is taxed to its uttermost. The stimulus of this unprecedented activity in the iron trade is felt in nearly all branches of the industrial fabric. Whether this is a cause or an effect may be left to the determination of economic experts. It is a fact, not a theory, which confronts us.

Another indication of prosperity is the continuation of phenomenal activity in the carrying trade. This business, like the iron trade, was expected to show some reaction from the tremendous activity of last year. The reverse, rather, is true. Although the railroads have suffered considerable loss of business through the shortage in the corn crop, this loss has been more than made up by activity in the transportation of other products, and the roads were never more prosperous than now, with excellent prospects for an indefinite continuance of this prosperity.

It is evident that the unwanted activity in the carrying trade, and in the iron trade, could not last very long without corresponding activity in other lines of industry. Industrial expansion and heavy transactions in general trade continue to be marked features of the situation. The number of new enterprises which are being launched continues large, with seemingly no prospect of diminution from week to week. Heavy as is production in nearly all lines of industry, it can hardly keep pace with consumption. When these conditions exist, we wonder and widespread prosperity is an inevitable sequence.

Notwithstanding our enormous domestic production of steel in its various forms, importations have been recently resumed on a large scale. This and other favorable influences have helped the industrial situation abroad, and the London market, which is essentially a bad break, as the Chronicle will doubtless recognize when its attention is called to the fact. It publishes on one of these two pages a climate or isothermal map showing—according to the map—"the temperature of Southern and Central California the same." The main feature of this map is what is known as the "60 deg. belt," which extends from San Diego to Shasta, and uncertain, is steadily gaining strength and tone. In Germany there are distinct indications of recovery from the recent depression. Russia and other countries of Europe are also showing unmistakable signs of industrial recuperation. All these conditions are favorable to an increase of our export trade, which has languished somewhat during the past year, rather because of European depression than through any fault of ours.

Our trade in the Orient also gives promise of steady and substantial increase. The march of western civilization in China cannot be checked, but will rather go forward at an ever-accelerating pace. Railroads, factories, telegraphs, etc., will be built in China, and we shall furnish a very large proportion of the materials of construction. The treaty of alliance recently concluded between Great Britain and Japan will favor rather than retard the development of the Orient along the lines of western civilization. While we are at present too busy with our domestic trade to be very deeply apprehensive lest we fail to secure our share of the oriental trade, we shall appreciate the inestimable value of that trade when domestic production shall have outgrown consumption, and our home markets are threatened with a surplus, if ever that time comes—and it is almost certain to come some time. We have as special advantages for securing a liberal share of the oriental trade, and we should under no circumstances throw away these rare advantages.

Possibly the lynching of that negro minister in Missouri may have been the reason so many of the old-time mulatto men have concluded to die during the past few days. A natural death is far preferable to one by the hemp route.

The February receipts of the water department amounted to nearly $44,000, or more than $5000 in excess of the receipts for February, 1901. This is an excellent showing. It indicates not only the increase in water consumption, but even more important from a business point of view, it indicates that the water revenues are increasing steadily but surely with the city's growth; and this means that the system will easily pay for itself within the next few years. Bonds and at the same time provide for all needed extensions and improvements. The purchase of the waterworks by the city was a first-class investment.

One of the unfailing indications of the growth and progress of Los Angeles is found in the steady increase of the local post-office receipts. The total receipts for February, 1901, were $25,585.44, while the receipts for February of the present year aggregated $25,750.41, showing an increase of $164.97 for the month. As compared to February of last year, or nearly 22 per cent, this is a tolerably good showing for the principal village in the "fag-end" of the State."

The Council did well in making provision for the regular police force, for an assistant police shatron. For many months past the need for an assistant to Mrs. Gray has been urgent, as the work required of her has been far more than one person could properly perform. This work is as important almost, as any other in connection with the city. The Council has done right in taking into account of that fact and acting upon it.

In spite of the garrulous gab of Garrison, the President will go to Chattanooga. A man who can calmly and coolly cold leaded platters into a 120-pound briar is not likely to be frightened by the bark of a worthless coyote.

President Roosevelt has arranged to spend the first week of April in hunting for trout in the streams of the Allegheny Mountains. He might take Grove City along to split on the bait.

That Los Angeles man who has just gone to Central Africa to hunt wild and ferocious gorillas should have taken a trip to South Carolina, where the daddy of 'em all lives.

Another indication of prosperity is the continuation of phenomenal activity in the carrying trade. This business, like the iron trade, was expected to show some reaction from the tremendous activity of last year. The reverse, rather, is true. Although the railroads have suffered considerable loss of business through the shortage in the corn crop, this loss has been more than made up by activity in the transportation of other products, and the roads were never more prosperous than now, with excellent prospects for an indefinite continuance of this prosperity.

It is evident that the unwanted activity in the carrying trade, and in the iron trade, could not last very long without corresponding activity in other lines of industry. Industrial expansion and heavy transactions in general trade continue to be marked features of the situation. The number of new enterprises which are being launched continues large, with seemingly no prospect of diminution from week to week. Heavy as is production in nearly all lines of industry, it can hardly keep pace with consumption. When these conditions exist, we wonder and widespread prosperity is an inevitable sequence.

Notwithstanding our enormous domestic production of steel in its various forms, importations have been recently resumed on a large scale. This and other favorable influences have helped the industrial situation abroad, and the London market, which is essentially a bad break, as the Chronicle will doubtless recognize when its attention is called to the fact. It publishes on one of these two pages a climate or isothermal map showing—according to the map—"the temperature of Southern and Central California the same." The main feature of this map is what is known as the "60 deg. belt," which extends from San Diego to Shasta, and uncertain, is steadily gaining strength and tone. In Germany there are distinct indications of recovery from the recent depression. Russia and other countries of Europe are also showing unmistakable signs of industrial recuperation. All these conditions are favorable to an increase of our export trade, which has languished somewhat during the past year, rather because of European depression than through any fault of ours.

Our trade in the Orient also gives promise of steady and substantial increase. The march of western civilization in China cannot be checked, but will rather go forward at an ever-accelerating pace. Railroads, factories, telegraphs, etc., will be built in China, and we shall furnish a very large proportion of the materials of construction. The treaty of alliance recently concluded between Great Britain and Japan will favor rather than retard the development of the Orient along the lines of western civilization. While we are at present too busy with our domestic trade to be very deeply apprehensive lest we fail to secure our share of the oriental trade, we shall appreciate the inestimable value of that trade when domestic production shall have outgrown consumption, and our home markets are threatened with a surplus, if ever that time comes—and it is almost certain to come some time. We have as special advantages for securing a liberal share of the oriental trade, and we should under no circumstances throw away these rare advantages.

Possibly the lynching of that negro minister in Missouri may have been the reason so many of the old-time mulatto men have concluded to die during the past few days. A natural death is far preferable to one by the hemp route.

The February receipts of the water department amounted to nearly $44,000, or more than $5000 in excess of the receipts for February, 1901. This is an excellent showing. It indicates not only the increase in water consumption, but even more important from a business point of view, it indicates that the water revenues are increasing steadily but surely with the city's

Action of Building and Loan Commissioners Generally Commended.

The action of the State Building and Loan Commission in taking steps to make all so-called "home cooperative" associations conform with the State laws regulating building and loan associations before undertaking to give a loan to any of them, was generally approved yesterday in financial circles, as well as among home-seekers and the cooperative plan. The action of the board has created a mild sensation, as well as consternation among men of the press and the enterprisers and agents of their patrons.

Commissioner Field was the recipient of unanimous congratulations on account of the stand he has taken, and bankers, building and loan men and business men generally commended the action of the commission. Financial men, far and wide, were gratified to see that one fair maid stands at the house, doing her work, can cut a circle backward in the kitchen floor with a pan full of dishwater and never spill a drop.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Fever for John.

John Gorman was sentenced to do four months in the chain gang for petty larceny yesterday.

For Alleged Cruelty.

John Swopes, a horse trader, was arrested yesterday by Humane Officer Oliver on a charge of cruelty to an animal. Swopes was released on $20 bail.

W. T. Smith Bankrupt.

William T. Smith, an assayer of this city, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States Court yesterday, stating his liabilities as $4636.54, with assets of $3239.50.

Will Visit Europe.

C. W. Nicklin, who for several years conducted the Southwest Printers' Supply House in this city, will start next month for a visit of several months in continental Europe.

Postal Receipts.

The postal receipts of the Los Angeles postoffice for the month just passed were $23,750.41, against $23,654.44 for February, 1901; an increase of $105.97, or 2.15 per cent.

A "At Home."

Invitations have been issued by Co. A, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., for an "at home," Tuesday evening, March 11, at the Armory. Troop D and Co. F also have issued invitations for a dance on the evening of St. Patrick's Day.

"Gambler" for Old-timers.

Justice Morgan was down with both feet yesterday on a trio of old drunks who have worn out their welcome in the Police Court. Tom Mathews got thirty days, Warden fifty days, Hines Cox twenty days.

Bad News for Him.

The Chief of Police received a telegram yesterday from Courtland, Cal., asking that an effort be made to find Guy Lillingston, formerly of No. 302½ South Spring Street, to inform him that his brother was drowned near Courtland yesterday.

Picked His Pocket.

While R. H. Hollingsworth was leaving the Burbank Theater in a crowd of sight-seers, he lost his coat and at the same time he felt a tug at his watch pocket, but thought nothing of it. An hour later he discovered that he had been robbed of his watch.

Sergeant Assigned.

John Hayes, the newspaper thief who tried to kill Detective Churchill to regain his liberty after he had been arrested, was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of assault on a constable.

His examination was set down for March 8 at 2:30.

Adine Afric.

The alarm of fire at 8:30 o'clock last night was caused by a blaze in the Aldine Hotel, No. 22½ South Spring Street. The fire was discovered in the room of G. R. Emberton and set fire to the curtains. The flames were extinguished with buckets of water. The loss will exceed $50.

McDonald's Disappearance.

James P. O'Connor, an attorney from New Haven, Conn., is in the city, making inquiries for James McDonald, 25 years old, who came here from Staten Island, N. Y., a half year ago. McDonald's mother is trying to get a trace of him. Mr. O'Connor is at the Hollenbeck.

Stabbed in the Back.

Thomas Ryan applied at the Recruit Office for a position as a cook. He has a knife wound in his back dressed. All he would say was that there had been a fight in the rear of the Mug Room, 10½ South Spring Street, and that he had stuck a knife into him. He declared that he would not prosecute his adversary.

Los Angeles Good Enough.

Miss Lucy C. Collins, who yesterday started on a trip from Phoenix, Ariz., will not go to Hongkong, as reported in an evening paper. Miss Collins was formerly stenographer in the office of the department of state of San Francisco.

Trade School Entertainment.

W. J. Thompson of the Los Angeles Trade School, for manual training of colored youth, is arranging for an entertainment at the school and entertainment ticket at the price of 50 cents the 5th inst. for the benefit of the school. Material has been secured for the entertainment, the girls' department having accommodated the girls' department, the school directors having decided to take up the work for girls as well as boys.

At Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce has received one of the elaborate and hand-crafted diamond bracelets from the St. Louis World's Fair for 1903. It is an engrossed copy of the proclamation issued by President McKinley, announcing the date of opening of the one-hundredth anniversary of the purchase of the Louisiana Territory from France for the inauguration of the Pan-American Exposition. The unique advertisement bears the portraits of McKinley, Roosevelt, Jefferson, Secretary Hay, Napoleon and David R. Francis, president of the Pan-American Purchase Exhibition Company.

Basket Lunch Indoors.

No one sat in the custard pie and there were no ants in the chocolate cake at the Victoria's of Angel City Lodge, No. 100 South Spring Street, America, held last evening at Odd Fellows Hall on South Main street. "Lots of fun and a good time." The evening was a success, and the hundred baskets containing lunch were sold at auction, the buyers eating the contents in company with the ladies who had prepared the packages.

Mrs. Wolf Injured.

Mrs. F. C. Wolf, of the dress firm of Wolf & Chilton, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. She had been attending a business meeting of the Ladies' Club, Chapter No. 32, on the corner of the Masters Street, when she was hit by a car. The car, which was being driven by a man, had run into the curb at the junction of Main and Thirty-first streets, she attempted to cross the street, which was filled with water. She slipped and fell into the water on both hands.

Wolf is a heavy woman and the fall resulted quite seriously. When picked up she was unable to stand for some time, and while the injured woman's hair gown was ruined by mud, and it was discovered that her handsome gold, which was broken into small pieces, she was compelled to return to her home for several days.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Detraction reigned at the session of the Police Commission yesterday morning. Officer Ziegler was accused of being too attentive to a young lady from Chicago who is visiting the Coast. The problem was to discipline the officer and at the same time keep the affair a secret.

Yesterday the Police Commission locked horns with the Council over the appointment of regular policemen under the ordinance recently passed.

The Supreme Court has rendered an important decision affecting stockholders' liability to creditors.

A RE GAY LOCHINVAR'S FOUND IN THE WEST!

POLICEMAN'S EXCESSIVE ATTENTION TO CHICAGO LASS.

Police Commission Works Itself into a Frenzy Over the Allegation That Officer Ziegler Was Too Attentive to Show Young Lady the Sights.

If a brave and courtly police officer, not a scoundrel and a maiden lady, go sightseeing and to take a bumpy ride by moonlight, should he be discharged or be given a chance to explain how her dancing eyes bewitched him?

To see the answer will be simple, if not painless. It is not so with the Police Commission. Story after story was the debate caused by this burning question. As far as known every member of the board did his full duty fearlessly. Summoning all their courage they locked themselves up with it for nearly two hours yesterday morning.

When Commissioner Walker arrived it was plainly evident that some crisis was near hand. He appeared to be laboring under great and unusual exertion. Under his wireless cipher code he signaled Stimson, "Therefore talk to Thorpe." Therefore it is necessary to state the board should not be overlooked.

LICENSE MATTERS.

After agreeing to plaster up a door leading from his restaurant to a room where P. Clark formerly proprietor of the St. James Hotel in Denver, Col., was granted a restaurant liquor license at No. 40 South Main.

Commissioner Thorpe raised the point that the board should not grant a restaurant liquor license where a similar policeman was not because of any dislike for the Park Superintendent, but because the board was uncertain of the County's carrying out the weight of the world on its shoulders.

The Police Commission wants to carry on the sanctum. Therefore it is necessary to state the board should not be overlooked.

A number of the finer officers

Walker was telling the harrowing details to his colleagues. A prominent friend of his wife, a young lady from Chicago, had made a visit to Chinatown but three days before Officer T. H. Ziegler was assigned the task of investigating the party through the miniature Latin Quarter in the curio store of Ah Foy the young lady and the policeman had enjoyed a tête-à-tête. The police officer had subsequently said that the policeman had asked her to come to Chinatown to meet him. Yesterday he had shown her many more things than they could see at that time. Perish the thought! Again the policeman had turned to the sanctum. "I will take you driving."

Some of the commissioners did not respond for several minutes.

When they all had their breath-panting broken loose yesterday filled with the City Clerk a report for February showing receipts amounting to $167 and disbursements of $217.

Health Board.

The Board of Health met last evening, listened to reports of inspectors, discussed methods of fumigation, and transacted routine business.

PERSONALITY IN THE SPINKS CASE.

R. SPINKS'S case against Wesley Clark and E. P. Bryan in Westlake oil remains one of a very little boy who once came late to school.

He turned to him for an explanation, and he said that the road was so slippery that every time he took one step forward he slipped two steps back.

"How did you ever get here, then?" asked the teacher.

He turned around and walked backward.

If Spinks doesn't turn around and start backward pretty soon, then will be no end to the suit.

Yesterday for a bit of a novelty he started out with another head than his own. The execute was there to talk so much that the only chance the witnesses ever get is in the attorney's infrequent breathing spells.

But the three wise men were not pleased. They thought the officer guilty of unbecoming conduct. He should be called to the bar of the commission's boot, they insisted.

He always had a good officer, he said, and was fairly satisfied with the Mayor in the excitement. "He shall never be discharged from the department without a chance to disprove that charge, if he can."

Mr. Snyder then left the sanctum and took his accustomed place at the head of the committee room. It was nearly noon. The execute was the only lawyer there, and they all wanted to be called to the bar.

The only thing that redeems the case is the interesting personality of the lawyers who are among the leaders of the bar.

Mr. Clark, the leading counsel for Spinks, is a big heavy man, with spectacles. He objects to being called a "big fellow." He is the most curious way of working off the nervousness that comes in the anxiety of legal struggle.

He confesses tears to his wife and past into a double cylinder like an ancient Greek scroll. He rubs and rubs back and forth in his fingers until it is all smooth enough.

The young lady is a cousin of Deputy District Attorney W. H. Wilbur's.

The man in the party was Wilbur's father. Yesterday he appeared before the police board in executive session and related the facts. The girl insists, so the Police Commission was informed, that there was nothing wrong in what the officers did.

When told of the charge yesterday afternoon, he was dumbfounded.

He had not even suspected that anything of the kind was alleged against him.

"There was a great deal to me," he said earnestly. "The so-called charge is not true. I am not only willing but anxious that there be a public trial."

"I said nothing to that young lady that I would not say to any relative. I tried to be courteous. Three or four times I spoke to the party through Chinatown, and when we parted everyone seemed well pleased."

"I did not ask the young lady to go to Chinatown, but I did tell her that if she would come down in the daytime I could show her more interesting sights than at night, when I am not intimate that she should come alone."

"All I want is a chance to vindicate myself. If I am given a hearing I am sure I can disprove the accusation that I acted improperly."

Ziegler appeared to be telling the truth. He is a married man and well connected in the city. He strenuously denied that he was gay. Late in the afternoon it was announced that the game law. He will be sentenced by Justice James on Monday.

OIL CONTRACTS.

The Supervision and Control yesterday by Donnan and Brooks for 10,000 barrels of oil at 45 cents, hot in the tanks, for use in sprinkling the roads of the Third, Fourth and Fifth Supervision Districts, and to Mrs. Simonson, the oil queen, for 10,000 barrels at 45 cents f. o. b., for use on the country roads of the First, Second and Sixth Districts. The last contract also includes some 50-cent oil.

DUKE SHOOTING.

James McRae, a man at La Bolla, was convicted yesterday of shooting his wife in violation of the game law. He will be sentenced by Justice James on Monday.

MORPHINE SLAVE.

George Seabold, 26 years old, was sent to the Highfield Hospital yesterday for treatment for the morphine habit. He is to be a porter at the Imperial Cafe. Dr. Dodge and Dr. Orme examined him. He is very excitable and begged to be turned loose.

the sick. This wife, and the make home and improve from confidence in a home where none loved mother as her daughter is hovering between life and death; all can be saved by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mrs.

Wiser, Mrs. Powers, W. V., writes as follows:"I had been sick for eight years, longer, can tell what I suffered.
I have spells of nervous headache when I have not had five and six days, and when I have not had a headache for eight days, I have a spell of pain in my head and all over, and then would have headaches, spells, and pain of the heart, but thanks to Paine's Compound, and I can praise it, it has not had a headache for eight days, and I have not had a spell of headache, and the pain has been gone, as I am growing up all the time still my husband read one of mine. After I had been using it right that we will deliver the Pasadena delegation to the State convention to Gov. Gage." So said Judge H. W.

HOW TO BE HEALTHY AND BEAUTIFUL

By Mrs. Symes

Putting Symmetrical Curves Upon the Weak, Emaciated Figure of a Worrying Woman

The simplest dumb bell exercises are very useful in developing unused muscles

An oil rub is excellent also the tissues may be nourished through the skin by oily applications

FIVE MINUTES
THREE LURES
A DAY WITH THE
ENOUGH TO DE-BLOAT WITH

peas, potatoes, beans, egg plants and green corn, and all vegetables containing a large amount of starch, are delicious in many ways. This thin woman should also eat salads, fruits and green vegetables to round out the nutrition of the diet.

The best diet for accustoming curves is composed of fish, eggs, soups, milk, vegetables, fruits, farinaceous meals, grains and sweet puddings and custards. Meats and poultry do no aid in flesh-gaining.

The woman who can afford massage should have it done as often as possible.

The enervated woman should understand how to give the quieting, or what is called hypnotic, treatment. It induces repose and calmness, and never excites or stimulates the subject.

An oil rub is excellent also. The tissues may be nourished through the skin by these oily applications. Alcohol oil mixed with linseed makes a good oil bath. A skin food will also be found efficacious.

The thin woman who has the leisure should practice light gymnastics. The simplest dumbbell exercises are advised rather than free movements, as the enervated woman gets no better with something to grasp in her hands.

Mr. William Blaikie advises the use of the exercises, and later I shall show how change possible. But why should we be in doubt when all over our varied physical needs are building in every hour each day? There are, here, a thin arm, there a flat chest, here a weak back; there a flat chest, here in-turning feet and subluxating blooming cheeks for a dried-apple skin. Indeed, in many cases they are tumors, warts out at higher figures, toes sold well.

Two boxes of very fancy California oranges brought 100 boxes of prunes, $2.85 per box. Tangerines in very limited supply and the are wanted, a few California, and 200 boxes and 18 half boxes only sold. Grape-fruit are also wanted, and 40 boxes of oranges and 40 boxes of lemons sold. Goods from store are a easy on any but the very best.

MRS. SYMES GIVES NEW BEAUTY RECIPES

BY MRS. SYMES. Please give treatment for obesity.

I think the first prescription you refer to is the treatment you refer to.

When the hair is obstinately dry, one will find that the hair is not easily washed.

The food most easily assimilated should be taken, whether the patient who wishes to put on flesh prefers it or not. Usually the women devote themselves to a selection of food, of itself enough to explain the reason for the excess weight.

Pickles, pies, cakes, made dishes, hot breads possess a weird charm for the thin woman who has the leisure to practice them.

Let the enervated woman loosen all her clothing, lie down flat on her back, and place one or two books or any object weighing from three to four pounds directly over the abdomen.

Next let her relax all her muscles and inhale very slowly through the nostrils, carefully avoiding any muscular strain.

The subject will observe that during the inhalation the abdomen expands, raising the object.

No attempt should be made to hold the object which should be exhaled as once through the nostrils. The abdomen will move to the depression of the diaphragm.

Where it is possible, an hour of silence in a darkened room, with the body at rest, in a completely relaxed position, as shown in the illustration, will be of immense benefit.

The thin woman rarely breathes correctly; she breathes from the chest, not from the abdomen, and all the time she breathes.

It is necessary to take a deep breath, then exhale slowly, then take another deep breath, then exhale slowly, and so on.

After ten minutes, then add eight ounces of camphor juice. Mix well again, and add a few drops of perfume, and the slightest particle will produce an inflammation if it reaches the eye proper.

LOTION FOR OILY HAIR.

Castor oil, 1 ounce; Camphor, 1/2 ounce.

Liquid ammonia, 1 dram; Tincture of camphor, 1 dram.

Oil of lavender, 15 drops; Oil of rosemary, 15 drops.

Mix thoroughly.

Apply to the eyebrows with a tiny tooth brush once a day until the growth is sufficiently stimulated. In using this ointment, the eyelashes, the application should be made to the very green eyelashes.

Another softening hair dressing, which has long been in use and bears an excellent reputation, is made as follows:

LOTION FOR OILY HAIR.

Crush one-quarter dram of camphor with five or six drops of alcohol until the result is a powder, then add distilled water, constantly mixing; half a pint of distilled water.

Agitate for ten minutes, then add eight ounces of camphor juice. Mix well again, and add a few drops of perfume, if agreeable.

LOTION FOR DRY HAIR.

Castor oil, 1 ounce; Camphor, 1/2 ounce.

Sweet almond oil, 6 ounces; Distilled water, 1 ounce.

Glycerine, 1 ounce; Camphor, 1/2 ounce.

Oil of rose, 15 drops.

Mix thoroughly.

LOSING TEAM IN TARGET SHOOT SETS 'EM UP.

High School Bond Issue Awarded to the First National Bank—Andres Sula Held for Trial for Murderous Assault.

RIVERSIDE. March 4.—The members of Co. M, N.G.C., enjoyed themselves to a high late evening, following a musical gathering at Y.M.C.A. Hall last evening, an interesting program of exercises being followed by a social.

SAN BERNARDINO.

CARNEGIE WANTS TO KNOW.

JUDGE F. F. Oster has received a letter from Andrew Carnegie, enclosing a list of questions which he wished answered in order to fully acquaint him with existing conditions in the city. A dozen letters have been written to Mr. Carnegie during the past few years in the hope of getting him to donate funds for the establishment of a public library here, and his letter of inquiry is construed to mean something.

OLD OFFENDER CONVICTED.

William C. Hildebrand, 52, a man and chronic offender, was this afternoon convicted by a jury of petty larceny. Beside being in the police court many times for petty thefts, Hildebrand has served time in San Quentin for counterfeiting. The offense of which he was convicted today was stealing and carrying away iron steps and selling them at a foundry for old iron.

SAN BERNARDINO BREVITIES.

The Board of Trade, which has the city with an additional water supply, which has filled columns in some papers, has been withdrawn. It wasn't big enough. The specifications it is stated, will be worked out on a larger scale.

Miss Winifred Martin is in San Francisco on a pleasure trip.

Mrs. Sadie Crawford, and daughter returned to their home in Los Angeles after a visit here at the home of Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warren.

Miss Mabel Layman of San Francisco is a guest at the home of J. J. Rousseau.

The Board of Trade decided last evening to advertise the city in a manner which will be circulated by the companies of the Third Regiment, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythian, San Joaquin, and the trustees will be worked out on a larger scale.

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS SOLD.

This morning the First National Bank of Riverside was awarded the purchase of the issue of High School bonds for $100,000, which were to be issued for the new High School building.

The money is intended to complete the furnishings and improve the grounds of the new High School building, for which bonds in the sum of $40,000 were voted.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

Andres Sula, had his preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice Mills on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to murder Salvator Talamantes. The offense occurred one day last week, and Talamantes was the only one hurt, being terribly cut on the arms and head.

The court decided that Sula should be bound over for trial in the Superior Court.

RIVERSIDE BREVITIES.

A Mexican lodge, called Sociedad de la Bella Union, de Trabajadores, has opened its doors to the workingmen here. One of the chief purposes is to protect young men from the indiscriminate and scandalous use of intoxicants.

Mr. W. V. Viall of Los Angeles says he covered up those bones near Urias twelve years ago. They were old bones and, evidently, had been used by dogs.

He has been visiting friends in Orange and Santa Ana today for their transportation and other expenses paid by the government. Short speeches followed by Dr. Taber, Maj. Helm, Capt. Mitchell and others.

Why Hars Methods Fail

better to seek a cure than to attempt results. Hars methods will be used to drive the disease. The action of medical influences and the use of corrective forces and aids.

The use of exciting and stimulants is seldom required, and when used they work harm. Whether easily or locally or in the treatment of disease they are usually in the aggravation of the disease.

The success in curing men's diseases is a mild, safe and thoroughly

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company has not laid a rail under the belt line franchise in five months, but attorneys hold that the erection of poles is a legal compliance with the "Your Money or Your Life" clause.

The firemen of the local department have determined to make a fight to determine the validity of the State pension law.

Judge Allen is of the opinion that street railway companies may be considered negligent unless they take the necessary steps to keep their cars from getting off on the wrong side of the car.

Mr. Huntington has filed another of his big incorporations, with a capital stock of $10,000,000.

"Habeas Corpus" Ladd was roared by Justice Morgan yesterday for questionable methods in a criminal case.

AT THE CITY HALL.

SECOND WARD CITIZENS ARE GETTING UNEASY.

WANT HUNTINGTON SYNDICATE TO BUILD BELT LINE.

Five Months Have Passed Without a Rail Being Laid—Attorneys Hold that the Erection of Poles Complies With Construction Clause of Law.

Citizens of the Second Ward are beginning to wonder when the Pacific Electric Railway Company will actually construct the belt line. The franchise was granted to the company to begin at Third and Hill streets, and follows a devious route through the Third and Second wards, finally terminating at Fifth and Hill streets. For the concession the company paid $20,000, which is undoubtedly much less than the franchise was worth.

The ordinance under which the franchise was granted provides that the work of construction must begin within four months, and be continuously prosecuted, so that one-third of the road shall be built in one year, and the remainder in two years. As yet the Pacific Electric Railway Company has not laid a rail, but it has erected poles and strung wires, which the attorneys for the corporation maintain is sufficient to comply with the provisions of the law and the ordinance.

A section of the "Broughton" law provides that the "construction of the franchise" will not begin until the ordinance is the word "rails" to be found.

Apparently all the company has done is to erect a few poles and string wires. As a matter of fact, however, the company has placed poles most of the way from the corner of First and Broadway, and is taking no chances of a forfeiture of the franchise.

Manager Esses Randolph was asked concerning the plans of the company.

"When will the Pacific Electric Railroad begin the construction of the belt line in the Second Ward?" was asked.

"Don't know," said Manager Randolph.

"Then the company has not yet begun work under the franchise?"

"Ah, yes. We have begun the erection on Edgeware road and other streets."

"Do you interpret that as a compliance with the franchise?"

"Certainly, it is part of the construction of the road."

"When will the company commence laying rails?"

"Can't say. Just as soon as possible. We will push the road to completion as fast as circumstances will admit."

Ordinance No. 648 grants to the company a franchise to maintain a double-track electric street railway for a term of forty years, which was approved September 1st, by Mayor Powers. It provides that the road must be constructed, maintained, and operated in conformity with each and every term and condition in the franchise, on pain of forfeiture of the concession. No freight, baggage or express car may ever be run over the road. Section 9 provides:

"That the work of construction of said road shall be commenced within four months from the day of the granting of the franchise, and shall be continuously prosecuted thereafter in good faith, with all due diligence, and without undue delay; that said work of construction shall be completed within no more than three years thereafter; that said work of construction shall be commenced at the point farthest from the City Hall, and continuously prosecuted from that point to the commencement, so that at least one-third of the work of constructing the road shall be completed within one year, and thereafter, in conformity with the franchise, and that said work is not so commenced, prosecuted, and completed within the time, or in the manner specified, this franchise shall be forfeited."

As a further protection, section 10 provides:

"That the neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of this franchise shall thereupon, immediately ipso facto, effect a forfeiture of the franchise, and, by the City Council, may thereupon declare this franchise forfeited, and may exclude the assignee, or his assigns, from the further use of the franchise, and said grantee, and his assigns shall thereupon, and immediately, disclaim all rights in and to the franchise, and this franchise shall be deemed and shall remain null and void of all effect."

As a further protection, section 10 provides:

"That the neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of this franchise shall thereupon, immediately ipso facto, effect a forfeiture of the franchise, and, by the City Council, may thereupon declare this franchise forfeited, and may exclude the assignee, or his assigns, from the further use of the franchise, and said grantee, and his assigns shall thereupon, and immediately, disclaim all rights in and to the franchise, and this franchise shall be deemed and shall remain null and void of all effect."

As a further protection, section 10 provides:

"That the neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of this franchise shall thereupon, immediately ipso facto, effect a forfeiture of the franchise, and, by the City Council, may thereupon declare this franchise forfeited, and may exclude the assignee, or his assigns, from the further use of the franchise, and said grantee, and his assigns shall thereupon, and immediately, disclaim all rights in and to the franchise, and this franchise shall be deemed and shall remain null and void of all effect."

TEST OF THE STATE LAW.

Steps have been taken by the members of the Los Angeles fire department to determine whether the fire law is valid. Attorney A. A. Mervine has been retained, and if necessary the case will be carried to the Supreme Court. The test will be made on the right of Charles Fuscier, ex-assistant fire chief, to receive a pension under the law.

In the effort to prove the validity of the law, the firemen of the entire State are interested. The pension measure was introduced in the last Legislature, but so far as known no city has yet granted a pension under it. Oakland has recognized it to the extent of apportioning a pension to the firemen who have been laid out in the way of pensions. Los Angeles is the largest city directly interested, as the San Francisco charter contains a provision which the firemen of that city are pensioned. Consequently the test will be made here.

When the Council fixed the tax rate

4 mills of the dollar was assigned to the firemen's pension fund. About $300 will be put in the fund by this allowance. The Fire Commission has organized as a board of pension fund commissioners to administer the pension fund.

No formal demand has yet been made on the board for a pension, and in view of the questions that have been raised the commission has refused to take voluntary action.

As assistant chief, Fuscier drew $150 a month, a claim for $75 a month will be filed with the Fire Commission tomorrow morning if Attorney Mervine has time to prepare the necessary documents.

The firemen, which has caused so much discussion was introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Joseph M. Kelly of Oakland. It is entitled "An act to create a firemen's relief, health and life insurance and pension fund in the several counties, cities and towns of the State." It is proposed to be regarded as very liberal.

At the suggestion of President Powers of the Council the Fire Commission at one time talked of bringing a friendly suit to test the legality of the bill. At that time it was thought that if the law is valid a thorough reorganization of the department will be imposed upon it.

It is the opinion of the Fire Commissioners act as a board of trustees. The measure provides that the board may, if it sees fit, retire on half pay all firemen who have served for twenty years, and who have been disabled during the preceding year for disabilities contracted in the service.

THE ADVANTAGE THAT IS TO BE GAINED BY ARISING FIFTEEN MINUTES EARLIER IN THE MORNING

Up in the morning's early light.
Up in the morning early!

It was the strain of the old-fashioned ditty-maker. There are still writers of "goodly" books and works on hygiene who extol the morning mood. According to them, the whole human machine is then at its best. The head is clear, the stomach is vigorous, the spirits are buoyant, life is a joy.

In reality—the reality of the everyday life of respectable people who have not tarried long at the wine or anything else ever night—the hard pull of the day is at the beginning.

A young man of education and breeding who lives in bachelor chambers with three other "good fellows" confesses that, while the 7 o'clock dinner hour is always full of cheer and good-will, the four friends seldom exchange a syllable at the breakfast table beyond a brief salutation at entering the room, and a curt "good-day" in separating to their various places of business.

"Thanks to this sensible silence, we have lived together many years without quarreling." He wound up the story by saying: "Every man is a brute until he has had his morning coffee."

A celebrated Judge left upon record the saying that "No man should be hanged for a murder committed before breakfast."

A brilliant woman summed up the popular judgment on the subject, in an after-luncheon speech before other literary women, in the assertion that "the human machine needs to be wound up and lubricated and regulated by bath and breakfast before it is fit to work with other machines, or, indeed, to go at all. Breakfast, partaker of in the company of one's nearest and dearest, is a blunder of modern civilization. It is an ordeal over which each should mourn apart."

Much of this is talk, and some of it is temper. It is not easy for one to get full command of oneself before the relaxed nerves are braced by tea or coffee and the long empty stomach is brought up to concert pitch by food. If we have slept heavily we are stupid; if too little, irritable.

Nor is it easy to return a smooth answer to a capricious customer, or to smile at a客 who asks for a good bottle, or to refrain from sulking the house in your voice as drawing room who thinks your time no more valuable than his own, or to return a blessing for railing in a business atmosphere.

We do daily each, if not all, of these things, because it is polite and politic to Christian to do them. Where principle or interest is involved, we tread personal paths, and when we have sat down to down his coffee in grim silence and says never a word between his downstinting and his uprising to and from the penthouse, we are glad to call to his neighbor in the street car, "Hello!" to the boy who sells him his

THE CARE OF CHILDREN

SYMPATHY for Mrs. J. H. S.'s as feeding. This will give partial nourishment to her little "bottle baby" and all that is needed is that she venture to some suggestions, the result of practical experience and success after loss and sorrow. How well I know her despairing ordeal! Good doctors everywhere, but few who understand an infant, and what can medicines avail to the overtaxed digestion of an anemic infant?

"Milk is a complete food, and the only sustenance for an infant previous to dentition. Human milk must be our standard, and to conform to it as nearly as possible in artificial feeding is our safest basis.

"Cow's milk contains more curd and less cream than human, hence the difficulty for an enfeebled infant to assimilate it perfectly. All the good infant foods on the market have little value beyond separating this indigestible curd, and thereby making the start for the child's digestion. By diluting cow's milk to reduce the curd, and enriching again in cream, the analyses of the two milks may be better than dosing for the predilection as far as needed, until the child gets its own grip on life, with intelligent nursing, one has little fear.

"To be brief, I will suggest a formula for a four-month-old child, and as J. H. S. mentions, a delicate child. One-third of a pint of milk (not condensed), two-thirds water, four tablespoons of rich cream, and add a peptogenic powder. This comes bottled with directions for quantity. Stir well, and insert a dairy thermometer and place on the fire, bring quickly to a boil, then when it begins to boil, hold at this point as long as child requires (say ten minutes for a trial). Stir all the while to keep the powder distributed evenly. Then keep quickly, until the digesting process and destroys the powder. Flame heat is more easily regulated for this, but not necessary, a little practice and it is a very easy thing to accomplish. As the child improves less time will be needed. This process can be carried out until the stomach would have nothing to do in the work, but the object must be to do so far as it can do itself. This simple process is a success.

"J. H. S.'s infant is still suffering pain and poisoning from its indigestion, suppose she diets it, and rests its over-loaded organs for a short period before adopting the above by lifting all the curd from the milk. Heat a pint to 115 degrees, stir, then strain, and then return it to the child, break up with a fork and pour through a fine rag. The curd will remain in the cloth, tough as leather, and the rest of the milk may be used

MARION HARLAND'S RECIPES.

CHICKEN OR TURKEY TIMBALES

Boil eight eggs very hard and leave them in cold water for two or more whites before running them through a vegetable press. Now mix with them four heaping tablespoonsfuls of the breast of chicken or turkey minced as finely as possible; season with a half a teaspoonful of onion juice, paprika and celery salt to taste, and mix to a white paste with the whites of three eggs beaten to a standing froth. Have ready enough buttered "nappies" or pastries to hold the mixture, fill them, set in a pan of hot water and bake twenty minutes in a quick oven.

Turn out upon a hot platter; pour a good white sauce about the base, heat a spoonful of the powdered yolks on the top of each and serve.

The yolks are prepared by running through a colander, or, better still, a vegetable press.

A NICE WINTER SALAD

Pare four juicy, sweet oranges, peel off every bit of the white inner skin from the fruit it encloses, pull the lobes apart and cut each into four pieces.

Scald a cupful of English walnut kernels, strip away the bitter skin and let the kernels get dry and cold. Mix with the bits of orange; set on the ice for an hour, heat in a glass salad dish lined with crisp lettuce and cover with a good mayonnaise dressing.

Some consider a tablespoonful of celery cut into small pieces an improvement to this dish.

TOMATO ASPIC AND SHRIMP SALAD

Strain the liquor from a can of tomatoes through coarse muslin. Put over the fire, season with salt and paprika and the strained juice of a small onion. When it boils, skim well and pour over half a box of Coxe's gelatine, which has been soaked three hours in a cup of cold water. Set away to form into a jelly.

When ready to use it line a salad dish with lettuce, arrange the contents of a can of shrimps (strained) upon the leaves and spoonfuls of the tomato jelly upon the shrimps. Send around French salad dressing with it.

LATEST FAD IS TO HAVE YOUR MONOGRAM ON YOUR SOAP

It is the man to whom she is shortening her life, and the woman who shortens his life, to have your monogram put upon your soap for coughs and colds that is spreading to a remarkable and almost incredible degree. It was thought that the limit had been reached when the owner's personal and family were placed in playing cards, which, after a quiet game of euchre or pinochle, were distributed to the players as a souvenir of the occasion.

Marvelous First Showing New "1902" Foulard Silks

The First Great Showing of the Grandest Assortment Ever Brought Together by One House on the Pacific Coast

SUCCESES of the past are insignificant compared to the great present triumph in merchandising in placing before an appreciative public the weaver's and designer's highest conceptions in the justly popular Foulard Silks. The magnitude of the display itself—the harmonious blending of colors—the enchanting beauty of patterns—will appeal to every woman with a taste for the beautiful and a proper appreciation of correct dressing. Of all the popular silks for summer gowns none will find more favor than the Foulards. Their richness and elegance has been enhanced this season by embodying delicate floral patterns and contrasting colors with the unique scroll designs. The thousands of yards of this new textile are in every color with corresponding range of shades to suit every type of beauty, please every feminine taste and at prices to suit the most economical or plethoric purse. Owing to the earliness of Easter this year, it is essential that you make your purchases now in order that you may have your gown to wear on Easter Sunday. . . .

For New Twilled Foulard Silks.

One hundred different patterns of 24-inch Foulards to select from—all the new colors and tints, blue, tan, castor, reseda, old rose, lavender, tobacco brown, silver and dark gray, navy, red, also black and white—handsome scroll patterns, vine effects, large and small figures, leaf designs, polka dots. Small twill effect—a beautiful satin finished Foulard, soft and durable. Superior to any others at 6c.

For 24-inch Printed Satin Foulards.

Colors and patterns for street and evening wear and the two-toned effects of red, gray, tan, old rose, also black and white. These are handsome with clusters of dots. Persian figures and stripes, vine and leaf effects, Oriental designs and all the novel weaves—printed on a beautiful satin library. A very soft quality.

$1.50

For 24-inch Imported Satin Library Foulard.

An elegant assortment of 100 pieces of the finest imported high art novelties for street and evening gowns with the ultra stylish faience floral and two-toned effects. These are the highest conception of the weaver's art. They will not rough up or crease, are easily draping, matchless in elegance, dignity and style—the most wanted colors as cadet, and porcelain blue, bisque, tobacco and golden brown, old rose, pink, reseda, lavender, pearl, silver gray, also black and white. The beauty of pattern is obtainable by the use of vine stripes with the little faience figures between, and they are also in the favored Persian designs, scroll, Oriental, applique and lace effects and large and small leaf patterns—two-toned. These are pure and large and are decreed to be the leading favorites. They are all silk dressed women. Type cannot do full justice to the beauty of these silks, and we ask your personal inspection that you may realize that they are without a peer among any Foulard Silks offered on the Pacific coast.

For 24-inch Satin Foulard Silks.

The handsomest, choicest and largest line of Foulards ever shown in Los Angeles, all the most wanted shades and colors, or porcelain blue, tobacco and golden brown, also black and white. These are handsome effects in scroll and vine patterns, floral designs, Persian effects, large small figures—an elegant assortment of 100 different patterns exceptionally good quality—most popular priced Foulard in the market.

LETTER FROM LINCOLN.

Written to Mother of Five Sons All of Whom Died Gloriously on the Field of Battle.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.] NEW YORK, March 5.—A well-worn, stained, torn and frayed, a letter written by Abraham Lincoln a few months before his assassination has been found in some rabid and papers on Broadway, near the postoffice. It reads as follows:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
Washington, Nov. 21, 1864.

To Mrs. Mary B. Thompson, Lincoln, I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant-General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who died gloriously on the field of battle.

I feel how every man and soldier must be and will be grieved at the loss, but I cannot refrain from tendering you the thanks of the republic that they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and I commend your sons to his care.

Yours very sincerely and respectfully,

A. LINCOLN.

Local Talent.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Los Angeles Auditorium, the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Stanley Hamilton, will give the last concert of the season. The soloist will be Miss Katherine Pilk, the famous contralto, an original singer, who will sing some of the selections which have made her popular here. Refreshments were served, and light refreshments were served.

Church is Growing.

The First Church of the Nazarene, South Los Angeles street, at its last annual meeting, numbered twenty-two members. This church has had a remarkable growth, and its present quarters are inadequate for its work. The members are now discussing the advisability of building a larger edifice on their recently-purchased lot at Sixth and Wall streets.
